Attention Militia!

We have for sale a few copies of the new Militia Law of this State in pamphlet form—price 25 cents per copy, free of postage.

Appointment by the Governor.

The Governor has appointed SIMON B. BUCKNER, of Louisville, Inspector General of the State Militia, under the new law approved on the 5th inst. The Inspector General ranks as a Major General and exercises under the Commander-in-Chief the active control and command of the Volunteer Militia.

General Buckner is an accomplished gentleman and thoroughly trained military officer. He has lately given considerable attention to the subject of an effective organization of the militia and was the author and draughtsman of the bill, which, without any amendment whatever, was enacted into the law under which he holds his commission. Of course he is perfectly familiar with the details of all the duties pertaining to his office and Gov. Magoffin could not have made a more suitable appointment. We congratulate him upon his promotion to a post he is so well qualified to fill, and have every assurance that he will so organize the militia of this State as to render it respectable in times of peace and formidable in war.

Lyon Circuit Court.

We understand that an impression prevails in Lyon and other counties in the 1st, 2d, and 14th Judicial Districts, that the laws passed by the last session of the Legislature, creating the 14th district, and regulating the time of holding courts in 1st and 2d Districts, leave Lyon county without any provision for Circuit Court terms. Numerous letters have been forwarded to Frankfort, making inquiry upon this subject. To answer these inquiries, we will say that act No. 291, approved February 17th, 1860, creates the 14th Judicial District, and abolishes the Equity and Criminal Court in Lyon and other counties. Act 292, approved February 18th, 1860, regulates the time of holding courts in the 1st District, abolishes the Equity and Criminal Court for Lyon county, transfers the papers of said court to the Lyon Circuit Court, and strikes said county from the 1st Judicial District. This act fails to attach Lyon county to any District. But act No. 917, approved March 1, 1860, provides as to the county of Lyon, "that the county of Lyon be, and is hereby, added to the 2d Judicial District, and the Circuit Courts in said county shall hereafter commence on the fourth Monday in June and second Monday in December, and continue twelve judicial days, if the business of the court require it."

It will be thus seen that the impression to which we have alluded is erroneous. We have only given such parts of the acts referred to as pertain to the courts in Lyon county.

The subjoined hand-bill, sent to us from Buchanan, Benion county, Michigan, will show the whereabouts of a scamp who may be known to some of our readers, and shows to what depths of degradation Black Republicanism can hurry its votaries:

Let the North Awake.

T. B. McCormick will discuss the immorality, illegality, and unconstitutionality of American Slavery, and the duty and power of the general government to abolish it, on Friday evening, March 16th, at 7 o'clock, in the Christian church. Mr. McCormick, formerly of Kentucky, is the clergyman for whom the Governor of Kentucky made a requisition upon the Governor of Indiana, charging him with aiding in the escape of fugitive slaves. The warrant was issued, and Mr. McCormick is thereby exiled from home. All are respectfully invited to attend. The greatest man since Tom Jefferson.

The Democracy of Marshall county indorse Gov. Magoffin's Veto of the Commercial Bank. See the proceedings of their meeting in another column.

We publish elsewhere in our paper a letter from a gentleman who participated in the fight at Vera Cruz between the Saratoga and two Mexican vessels.

Keonon & Crutcher have all the new styles of hats. We are indebted to this firm for a copy of Harpers' monthly for April.

The Louisville Courier has donned a new and elegant typographical dress. It is also considerably enlarged. We congratulate it upon this evidence of its prosperity.

THE OWENSBORO CONFLAGRATION.—The fire in Owensboro Tuesday, burnt $25,000 worth of property, and the whole town for a time was in imminent danger of destruction. A warehouse of F. L. Hall, occupied by Winsted & Hicks and B. A. Wilhoite, was burnt; J. Mitchell's store-house was also consumed. Mitchell and Hall lost each $5,000, but the latter is fully insured.

THE NAVAL ENGAGEMENT IN THE GULF. From a detailed account of this affair, published in the New Orleans Picayune, it appears by the statement of the prisoners that Miramon's vessels were fitted out in the port of Havana, with the knowledge and connivance of the Cuban authorities.

MAIL ROBBERY.—The boy mail carrier from Double Springs, in White county, to Glasgow, Ky., has been arrested for robbing the mail. The Sparta Times says:

It is not at all surprising that a thing of this kind should occur, as the mail bags sometimes have a hole in them large enough to poke an orange through. It is a strong temptation.

THE CLIMAX.—A poor fellow says: "In an evil hour I became addicted to drink. From that moment I have been going down, until I have become an outcast—a loafer—a thing of no account; fit for nothing else but a member of Congress."

Death of Hon. Ben Monroe.

It is with unfeigned sorrow that we record the death of Hon. Ben Monroe, of this city. He died on Saturday last, and was buried yesterday. The deceased was one of the most honored and useful members of this community. He had held the position of Circuit Judge prior to his removal from Columbia to Frankfort, and while a citizen of this place was Reporter of the Decisions of the Court of Appeals for eighteen years, and a leading practitioner in his profession. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church, and stood high in the Masonic fraternity. In all the relations of life, public and private, he was esteemed one of the purest and best of men, and now that he is gathered to his fathers, ripe in years and honors, he leaves a large circle of friends—we might add a whole community to regret his loss. We trust that some friend better acquainted with his early history will supply an extended notice of his long and useful life. We subjoin the resolutions adopted by the Bar and officers of the Franklin Circuit Court in testimony of his worth:

At a meeting of the members of the Bar, and the officers of the Franklin Circuit Court, held at the Circuit Clerk's office, on the 24th inst., Hon. James Harlan was elected Chairman, and Philip Swigert, Secretary.

A committee, consisting of Thos. N. Lindsey, James P. Metcalf, and Jno. M. Harlan, was appointed to prepare and report resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting in regard to the lamented death of Hon. Ben Monroe.

The committee reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the Bar, and the officers of the Franklin Circuit Court, in receiving, with the deepest sorrow, the intelligence of the death of Hon. Benjamin Monroe.

Resolved, That we will cherish an affectionate remembrance of the many virtues which distinguished both his private and public career, and which rendered him universally beloved and respected; whether on the Bench, in the prosecution of his profession, in his intercourse with his fellow men, in the midst of his family, or as a member and officer of the Christian denomination, he endeavored to discharge his duties with scrupulous fidelity and zeal which mark the truly conscientious and upright man.

Resolved, That as a testimony of our respect and affection for the memory of the deceased, we will attend his funeral at the time appointed for that purpose.

Resolved, That the Chairman and Secretary of this meeting transmit to the family of the deceased a copy of these proceedings, and assure them of our sincere sympathy in the great loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That the Secretary furnish a copy of the proceedings of this meeting for publication in the city papers.

Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting present these resolutions to the various courts of record held in the city of Frankfort, at their next terms, and request that they be entered on record.

JAMES HARLAN Chairman.
P. SWIGERT, Secretary.

The Capture of the Mexican Vessels at Vera Cruz—An Interesting Letter.

U. S. Sloop SARATOGA, off Vera Cruz, March 9th, 1860.
MY DEAR BROTHER:—The weather not permitting the steamer to leave for New Orleans as soon as was expected, when I closed B's letter, I embrace the opportunity of writing you a few lines by the same vessel.

In my letter to B. I mentioned that we had a very lively little encounter with two steamers which we took. The papers in the United States will soon be full of the affair, and as it was one of a very delicate nature, I will state the facts of the case as they occurred, and allow you to make the editors of the papers in your town acquainted with them, in order that they may give a correct version to the people.

On the 6th inst., two steamers made their appearance off the harbor of Vera Cruz, and although they passed within three miles of the Castle, they showed no colors. This is very unusual, and more remarkable in this case, because the Castle fired a gun and displayed the Mexican colors, to attract their attention. The actions of the strangers being very suspicious, this ship, together with two small chartered steamers, the "Indianola" and the "Wave," were sent to Antonio Lizardo, about twelve miles southward of Vera Cruz, to watch their movements. As we approached the anchorage of the steamers, one of them attempted to leave through the southern passage. Our ship then fired a gun across her bows, not at her, to bring her to the beach, the usual way of notifying a suspected vessel that a man-of-war wishes to speak her; she should have to come immediately, and showed her colors; she did neither, but continued her flight; then the "Indianola" and "Wave" were sent in chase. As the former approached her, he hailed her several times, ordering her to let go an anchor. The reply was a broadside gun, and a volley of musketry, which wounded one of our men. The first shot having been fired by them, there could be no blame attached to us for our course, which was to open fire upon them and continue it until they surrendered. The steamer at anchor, being under our broadside, made very little resistance; but the running one fought as long as was about any hope of escaping, which was about twenty minutes or half an hour. The steamers proved to be the "General Miramon" and the "Marquesa de Habana," loaded with munitions of war for the Church party of Mexico, and under the command of Admiral Miramon, an officer of that party. The fact of their firing into us first is sufficient in itself to justify us in capturing them; but this is not all. Although they were commanded by a well-known traitor, now an agent to Miramon, and although they were equipped with arms and they, at least one of them, hoisted the Spanish flag, and they have papers which declare them to be legal Spanish traders, which of course are false.

The simple fact that these vessels fitted out in Havana, where no private citizen is allowed to traffic in munitions of war, shows that the Spanish government must have assisted the expedition, thereby interfering in the civil war in Mexico. This I believe will not be tolerated by our government, and the implication of the authorities of Cuba in the affair may lead to serious results. The commanding officer here has done his duty; let us see what the people will say about it.

Anderson, of the Fourth District, is again manfully truckling for Abolition sympathy and support in the approaching contest for his seat. The other day, he and Green Adams alone, of all the Southern Opposition, voted with the Republicans to give William Williamson further time to contest Sikes' seat. Williamson had no right to further time—and has no expectation of ousting Sikes, but he wants a little more per diem. The Black Republicans were willing to accommodate him, and so was Anderson. If the Blacks don't retain Anderson, they will prove themselves the basest ingrates. He has been a party of enough indignity to suit their support. What a burning disgrace the official trickery of Charles Morehead, James Harlan, and Mason Brown, has imposed on the freedom of the Fourth District.—Bardston Gazette.

Metcalf's Reports.—The first volume of Metcalf's Reports of decisions of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky is bound and ready for delivery, and may be had of the Reporter or at either of the book stores in Frankfort. Maryland Democratic State Convention.

BALTIMORE, March 23.—The Fifth Congressional District of Maryland Democratic Convention has chosen Bradley J. Johnson and John J. Menon delegates to the Charleston Convention. A permanent organization of the Maryland State Democratic Convention is being held here. Ex-Governor Lowe is the Chairman, and the Vice Presidents are chosen one from each district. The committee appointed on resolutions will report this morning, after which delegates will be elected to Charleston. It is thought that delegates favoring Mr. Douglas will be chosen.

The Committee on Resolutions reported a series of resolutions as follows:
1. The people of Maryland, as a frontier Southern State, are most vitally interested in the protection of slave property and the faithful observance of all the guarantees of the Federal Constitution, and denounce as wicked the treasonable attempts by the Northern people to regulate or invade by discussion, agitation, or otherwise, the domestic institutions of any State or Territory.

2. That we pledge ourselves to unite with our Southern brethren in asserting and maintaining our constitutional rights at every hazard and to the last extremity.

3. That we do faithfully adhere to the political principles of the National Convention of 1856 as the true Democratic platform.

4. That we stand upon the policy of non-intervention by Congress with the institution of slavery in the territories, as approved by the convention of 1856, and that we declare it to be our opinion that neither Congress nor the people of a Territory, organized or unorganized, directly or indirectly, can interfere with the institution of slavery or rights of holding slaves. We hereby declare that such right is more properly referable to judicial instruction, and that the Supreme Court, upon such questions, is final and binding upon each member of the Democratic party, and will more certainly conduce to the public peace than any other form of legislative intervention.

5. That perfect freedom of opinion on all questions ought to be enjoyed by every member of the party, and that differences between the Democratic Convention, or the Supreme Court, or the States shall settle the issue, when it becomes an imperative duty to yield unqualified assent.

6. That we approve of the general policy of the present National Administration.

7. That we will give our support to the nomination of the Charleston Convention, and that the Supreme Court, upon such questions, is final and binding upon each member of the Democratic party, and will more certainly conduce to the public peace than any other form of legislative intervention.

8. That we will give our support to the nomination of the Charleston Convention, and that the Supreme Court, upon such questions, is final and binding upon each member of the Democratic party, and will more certainly conduce to the public peace than any other form of legislative intervention.

"WOULDN'T PASS AT MUD SPRINGS."—A correspondent of the California Press, in St. Louis, relates a story of a Californian of Mud Springs, in Eldorado county. By double condensation we got the narrative down to this: The citizen of Mud Springs could find nothing sufficiently superior in St. Louis to "pass at Mud Springs," he was saying almost constantly that everything was all very nice, but it wouldn't "pass at Mud Springs." At length he was introduced into the family of a rich merchant who had a daughter "just nineteen years old," the young lady admired, nay, loved the Californian, and the merchant thought of instigating a marriage. He took the Californian aside and said:
"Well, sir, I am a man of business, and I judge you are. Now, sir, what do you think of my daughter?"
The interrogatory momentarily startled the gentleman from Mud Springs, but he rose above the agitation and was himself again as replied:
"Well, old man, your girl's a snorter, but I'll be damned if she'll pass at Mud Springs!"

DIED.

of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening its sensibilities. For this reason, it commands itself as the only reliable preparation now known for Children's Coughing, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind, Cold in the Head, and Croup, also, for softening the gums, reducing inflammation, regulating the bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic it is used with great success in all cases of Convulsion or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but Dr. Eaton's Infantile Cordial, this you can rely upon. Naval Fight in the Gulf—Mexican Steamers Captured—15 Men Killed and 23 Wounded—The News From Vera Cruz.

[From the N. O. Picayune, Tuesday evening.]

The two steamers captured by the United States sloop-of-war Saratoga, on the Mexican coast and brought hither as prizes, sailed from Havana on the 27th ult. The Marques de la Habana is reported, by the Diario de la Marina, to have cleared as a Spanish vessel; the General Miramon as a Mexican. They both cleared as merchantmen, nor does it appear that at the time of the capture they had materials of war on board. And this is stated to be good authority from Havana, to have been the fact. The guns, ammunition, stores, &c., were taken on board afterwards. Of the former, each steamer had six, twelve and twenty-four pounders, or twelve in all, stored below. As to the amount of stores and ammunition, we have only the general statement that both vessels were deeply laden.

Both the Marques de la Habana and Gen. Miramon were old Spanish mail steamers, plying on the Cuban coast. The latter was formerly known as Correo No. 2. They were both built, we believe, somewhere at the North, and one of them is said to have plied on the Sound before her purchase by the Spanish Government, but under what name it is not stated.

Of the actual nationality of the steamers we have diverse reports. That most generally received is, that before fitting out for this last expedition, they had been transferred to some agent of the Miramon Government. The purchase money, $55,000, is said even to have been transmitted through the French Consulate at Vera Cruz.

It is somewhat singular, however, if the transfer was actually made, as reported, that one of them should have been cleared as a Spanish vessel. The Havana custom-house reports are very formal and proverbially accurate. It is also somewhat singular, if true, as reported, that both vessels carried the Spanish flag as they sailed from the port of Havana.

After they had gotten out to sea, all accounts agree that the Mexican flag was hoisted, and the guns mounted. This is reported by the steamship Mexico, which left Havana on the 28th ult. Com. Thomas Maris was then in command of the expedition, boarded the Mexico in that capacity, and sent back dispatches to Havana by her. Both vessels were then armed as war steamers.

CAPTURE OF THE STEAMERS—PARTICULARS OF THE ENGAGEMENT.

In the meantime the Constitutional Government at Vera Cruz had issued a proclamation, declaring Miramon a pirate, and authorizing whoever should encounter him or his vessels in the waters of Mexico, to capture them as sailing piratically, in violation of the law of nations.

What day the steamers left Sisal we are not informed, but they made their appearance off Vera Cruz about noon on the 6th. They were immediately signalled from the castle as suspicious vessels, and the news circulated rapidly through the town, where it produced great excitement.

In the meantime the steamer confined under full steam rapidly to the entrance. They passed behind the castles of San Juan de Ulua, in the direction of Sacrificios, and finally ran into Anton Lizardo, where a flag, previously raised by Miramon, indicated the place of rendezvous. Miramon was at this time before Vera Cruz.

The steamers bore no flags whatever when they passed the castle, nor did they hoist them either then or at Sacrificios, though they were ordered to do so, first by a shot from the fortress, and afterwards by the U. S. Sloop Savannah. On the contrary, they passed boldly forward, casting a look of defiance upon those who presumed to question them.

The French, Spanish, and English vessels at Sacrificios did not notice the suspicious steamers, or at least did not order them to show their colors.

Capt. Jarvis, of the sloop of war Savannah, is the senior U. S. officer at Vera Cruz. He saw with his own eyes this contemptuous violation of the law of nations—two vessels of war armed to the teeth, passing coolly by without giving a signal or hoisting her colors when ordered to do so—and took his course decidedly.

He immediately ordered the sloop of war Saratoga, Capt. Turner, to go in pursuit of the steamers. The Saratoga, only carrying sail, was towed down by the steamers Indianola, of this port, and the Wave, plying on the Mexican coast.

The Marin steamers had just cast anchor, at Anton Lizardo, when the Saratoga came up with them. They still had steam up, however, and seemed to have taken a position as if to put at once to sea, in case of being overhauled. The Saratoga, however, seems to have taken them unawares, though the moon was shining brightly, and at once took a position to cut off all retreat. Marin then prepared as if to give fight.

In the meantime, Capt. Turner dispatched a small boat to the steamers with a flag to demand their nationality. Marin fired upon it. The boat, however, continued its course; Marin fired upon it the second time. The Saratoga then launched a broadside upon the steamer, commanded in person by Marin. This was the Gen. Miramon, and seemed best armed. She was piloted by a man named Flores, well known at Vera Cruz.

The other steamer was commanded by one Capt. Sanchez, formerly of the Mexican war steamer Democrata, which he betrayed.

One account says that Marin fired a lion, but others say that, on the opening of fire, both steamers tried to run away. They were, however, intercepted by the Indianola and the Wave.

It was, however, two or three o'clock in the morning before Marin surrendered. He was taken on board the Saratoga. Nearly all the officers and crews of both steamers were also captured, either by the Indianola or Wave, and taken up to Vera Cruz, where they were distributed between the Savannah, Saratoga, and Preble.

The number of the wounded on board the two steamers was about thirty. They were taken on board the Saratoga, and their wounds properly dressed. Among the wounded was Capt. Flores, who has since had his arm amputated at Vera Cruz.

The number of Americans wounded was three—one mortally. We have not learned his name. He belonged to the Preble.

A few of Marin's men made good their escape to the shore, but a number of Miramon's men, who had already gone on board the steamers, were captured.

Among these last captured was Miramon's principal agent, who is said to have been hidden in an obscure corner when the firing began, but had the misfortune after all to be badly wounded.

The Gen. Miramon was very badly injured by the Saratoga's broadside, and only gotten aloft with difficulty. The Indianola also received several shots, but they did her no serious injury.

Soon as the action commenced, the two steamers hoisted the Spanish flag.

After the arrival in Vera Cruz several of the prisoners made a public statement, in which they detailed the history of the whole expedition. It does not differ from the above. They testify that the Mexican flag was not raised until after both steamers left the port of Havana.

THE ATTACK ON VERA CRUZ.

While the firing was going on at Anton Lizardo, the enemy encamped before Vera Cruz seemed to have caught the spirit and sallied out in several small parties in the direction of the town.

They had, during the whole day and evening, been riding about on the sand hills, coolly surveying the city.

About midnight they made a descent upon the first and second lines, between the railroad and Huasca, where they were received with a good cannonading, and, after about twenty minutes, retired.

They seem to have had only a few small pieces with them, nor was the number of men great. It appears to have been only a unit of several companies, who caught the spirit of the cannonading in the distance, and thought they would see what they could do before the town.

All agree, however, that up to the latest advice he still threatened the city. No one, however, seems to believe he will take it. Miramon has with him a large number of very fine cavalry, which is constantly parading on the sand hills.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Post office committee of the House this morning, after two days' argument, resolved, with but one dissenting voice, that the inland postal service of the country should be re-organized on the 3d of March, 1859, and instructed their chairman to prepare and report a bill for that purpose to a special meeting of that committee to-morrow.

From present indications, the Pacific Railroad committee of the House will probably reconsider at their meeting on Monday the vote in favor of one road.

The Cabinet had a protracted sitting to-day, at which the capture of the Mexican steamers and prisoners before Vera Cruz was much discussed. The President will not probably reply at once to the Senate resolution calling for information respecting the capture of the Miramon steamers, the instructions to our naval force in the Gulf, &c. Disputes will be continued as to the occurrence, are on their way from New Orleans. The Preble will no doubt bring further authentic information.

The Representatives and Senators from Alabama, Mississippi, and South Carolina had their last conference yesterday, and decided that, in view of the two national conventions which are also to assemble, it was advisable to postpone the Atlanta conference until after the Presidential election.

The instructions which were a few days ago given to Mr. McLane, and through him to our Naval officers, will not be communicated, because they have not been acted upon, but probably there were no instructions which could bear upon the case of the capture, because there had been no opportunity to send out any for a month past. The captures were not made under any instructions, for it could not have been anticipated.

The Senators and members, together with Gen. Forbes Britten, appeared before the House Military committee to-day, and urged with great vehemence the appropriation of a million and a quarter of dollars for the Texas mounted regiment. The committee adjourned until to-morrow, when the subject will be again renewed, and some definite action will be had. The impression prevails that they will decide adversely to it, inasmuch as the President and Secretary of War have neither of them recommended it.

General Pomeroy arrived here yesterday from Atchison, Kansas, in three days, the quickest trip ever made from that Territory to this city, and was accompanied by the new line of railroad, just opened between Atchison and St. Joseph, where connection is made with the Illinois route.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The following call has been furnished here for publication to-morrow:

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The members of the Democratic National Committee are requested to meet in Washington on Thursday, April 6th, for consultation on important business. A full and prompt attendance is desired.

Signed, D. D. STALLEY, Chairman, J. R. GEORGE, C. L. VALLANDIGHAM, JULIUS HESSE, Secretary.

Six or eight members of the committee are already in the city. It is understood that no change will probably be made as to the place of holding the Convention, but it was thought important that the committee should be called together to satisfy the public opinion, and in the hope that the grievances complained of at Chicago, when the subject was first proposed, for a change continues unabated from different sections. There is some talk among individual delegates now here of an informal call upon the several State delegates to confer at the same time with the Democratic National Committee on the above named subject.

THE WAR IN MEXICO.

On looking over our files of Vera Cruz papers, we find some interesting particulars of the progress of the war, and the prospects of parties in the interior of the country.

The reported capture of Zacaatecas and Aguan Calientes is confirmed. These two important cities are the capitals, respectively, of the States bearing the same name. Zacaatecas was captured on the 9th of February by the Liberal forces, under Gonzalez Ortega. There was no resistance, the Centralists under Silverio Ramirez, having evacuated the place without firing a shot. Ramirez first proclaimed the claim for a change continues unabated from different sections. There is some talk among individual delegates now here of an informal call upon the several State delegates to confer at the same time with the Democratic National Committee on the above named subject.

On the 13th there was a slight encounter of outposts at Salinas. Ramirez's forces were much reduced by desertion, entire detachments, with their officers, having abandoned him.

Ortega, despairing of overtaking Ramirez, abandoned the pursuit, and turned southward, in the direction of Aguan Calientes, which city he entered on the 15th, taking possession in the name of the Constitutional Government. He immediately installed the Legislature of the State.

On the 18th, Ortega again took up his march for Zacaatecas, whence he would proceed to assist Garza and Hinojosa in their operations against San Luis. At last dates Garza was at Tula, waiting for reinforcements from Zacaatecas or New Leon.

Jose Yanez Prada, Nicanor Arzoztegui, and Carlos del Hoyo, have been imprisoned at Zacaatecas, for having given aid to the Reactionary party. Senor Arzoztegui, who had protested against the McLane treaty, has been removed from the office of Superintendent of the Mint at Zacaatecas.

On the 8th of February, 550 cavalry, said to have been well mounted and perfectly armed and disciplined, and commanded by the Spaniard Florentino Lopez, were completely routed by the Liberals under Pedro Hinojosa, near San Juan de Vanegas.

Another party of 800 Reactionists, which had sallied out from San Luis, under Calvo, was also attacked and routed.

Zacaatecas was marching southward from Monterrey with 2,000 men and two batteries of artillery.

The city of Durango had fallen into the hands of a band of robbers and malefactors—so they are called by the Liberals—commanded by a man named Cajen, and acting in the interest of the Church party.

The Liberals, at last accounts, were still besieging Villa Juarez, in Oajaca—New Orleans Picayune.

Still Later from Vera Cruz.

NEW ORLEANS, March 24.—The schooner Virginia Antoinette has arrived below with Vera Cruz advices to the evening of the 15th inst., one day later.

The military conference, which was mentioned by the last arrival as having met, amounted to nothing. The bombardment was recommenced by Miramon on the morning of the 15th, with redoubled energy, and the shot and shells were taking effect in the city, killing several of the inhabitants and soldiers, and doing much damage to property. Many of the shot fell among the ship lying under the castle of San Juan D'Ulloa, without doing any great damage.

Two Spanish war steamers arrived off Vera Cruz on the 15th, the day the Virginia Antoinette sailed.

Mutiny at Sea.

BOSTON, March 24.—The ship Norway, of New York, when five days out on the passage from Mexico for Havana, with one thousand colliers, was the scene of a terrible mutiny, in which thirty colliers were killed and ninety wounded. The fight lasted from 6 o'clock P. M. till daylight next morning, when the colliers yielded. Capt. Major had his wife and two daughters, also a lady passenger and child, on board. The lady passenger died from fright, and her child expired soon afterwards.

A NOTED DAY.—The twenty-third of April has been fixed upon for the assembling of the National Democratic Convention in Charleston. It is the date on which Brazil was acquired, the battle Rattiss was fought between the Americans and the French, the charter of Connecticut was granted by Charles II, the first number of the Tatler was published by Steele, Addison & Swift. It is also the anniversary of the death of Cervantes, Baxter, Tickell, Wordsworth, and Shakespeare.

ACTUAL STATE OF THINGS AT VERA CRUZ.

At last accounts Miramon was still encamped before the city, and had served upon the foreign representatives the usual notices of his intention to bombard it. Whether, however, he has now the means, since the capture of his steamers, seems a matter of doubt.

"PENCILS BY THE WAY."—The New York Ledger, through Fanny Fern, has some sharp hints for its lady readers. According to Fanny—

"There are two things a woman can't do. 1st. She can't sharpen a lead pencil. Give her one and see. Mark how gently she hacks away every particle of wood from the lead, leaving an unsupported spike of the latter, which breaks immediately you try to use it. You can almost forgive the male creature his compassionate contempt, as chucking her under the chin, he twitches it from her awkward little paw, and rounds and tapers it off in the most ravishing manner for durable use.

I wish to hear no argument on that point, because when I once make up my mind, 'all the king's men' can't change it. Well then—Secondly: A woman can't do up a bundle. She takes a whole newspaper to wrap up a paper of pills, and a coil of rope to tie it, and it comes undone at that. When I go shopping—which it is sometimes my bad lot to do—I look on with the fascinated gaze of a bird in the neighborhood of a magnetic seer, to watch clerks do up bundles how the paper falls into just the right creases; how deftly they turn it over, and tuck it under, and tie it up, and then throw it down at the counter, as if they had done the most common-place thing in the world; instead of a deed which might—and faith—does! task the ingenuity of 'angels'! It is perfectly astonishing.

Thirdly—I might allude to the fact that women cannot carry an umbrella; or rather to the very peculiar manner in which they perform that duty; but I won't. I seem to turn traitor to a sex who, whatever may be their faults, are always loyal to each other. So I shall not say, as I might otherwise have said, that when they unfold the parachute alluded to, they put it right down over their noses, take the middle of the sidewalk, raking off men's hats and women's bonnets, as they go, and walking right into the breakfast of some unfortunate wight, while that total disregard of the consequences, which, to be understood, is a touch to be felt, as the offender rocks up one corner of the parachute, and looks defiantly for the victim who has had the effrontery to come into the world and hazard the whalebone and handle of her 'umbrella'! No; I won't speak of any thing of the kind; besides, has not a celebrated writer remarked, that when dear 'women' are cross, it is only because she is sick? Let us hope he is right. We all know that is not the case of the sex's crossness. Give him his favor to dish, and you may dine off him afterward—if you want to.

WEDLOCK IN THE EAST.—Youths in the east are thus exhorted by one of the eastern journals to marry.

A good wife is the best, most faithful companion you can possibly have; by your side while performing the journey of life. A dog's not a touch to her. She can smooth your linen and your cares for you; mend your trousers and change your manners; sweeten your moments, as well as your tea and coffee; rifle, perhaps, your shirt bosom, but not your temper; and, instead of sowing the seeds of sorrow in your path, she will sew buttons on your shirt, and plant happiness, instead of heart-ache, in your bosom. Yes! and you are too young to be so foolishly lazy, or too proud, to do such work yourself; she will carry will to the hogs, chop wood, and dig potatoes for dinner. Her love for her husband is such that she will do any thing to please him—except to receive company in her every-day clothes. Get married, I repeat, you must. Concentrate your affections upon one object, and don't distribute them crumb by crumb, among a host of Susans, Marys, Elizabeths, Betsys, Peggies, Dorothies, all-wise, each scarcely enough to dabble at. Get married, I repeat, you must. Get married, and have some one to cheer you up, as you journey through this vale of tears.
